

To New Graduate Students Entering Tohoku University

*If you have not requested admission materials, please request them from our website.

Guidance for Enrollment Preparation

This is an announcement from the Tohoku University Co-op regarding preparations for enrollment. The Tohoku University Co-op has established a "New Life Support Center" where you can complete everything from finding a place to live to preparing your computer and various other procedures in just one day. We are here to assist you with your enrollment preparations. If you have not yet found a place to live, prepared your computer, or completed the procedures for joining the co-operative insurance program, please check as soon as possible.

Recommended time for graduate students to look for housing (late November 2025 to late January 2026)

The New Life Support Center has more rooms available in areas where Tohoku University students live than anywhere else. We understand that moving out on your own for the first time and coming to Sendai for the first time can be a daunting experience. You can hear about actual living conditions from senior Tohoku University staff and decide on a room through viewings.

- ➡ Approximately 1,200 rooms introduced last year, offering a wide selection of properties
- ➡ Since you will be living there throughout your studies, it is important to thoroughly inspect the property.
- ➡ We can also introduce student dormitories with meals included.

● Finding a room in Sendai

Due to the expected rush following the announcement of university acceptance results in February, we recommend visiting as early as possible. January is relatively quiet and recommended. However, even if you start looking for a room in December or earlier, the move-out schedules of current residents may not yet be finalized. Additionally, even if you find a good room, rent may begin the next day, and there may be cases where you cannot sign a lease. The Student Cooperative specializes in areas where Tohoku University students live and has secured rooms available for move-in in March and April, so please feel assured.

You can search for properties on the Housing Information Center website.

You can access the property information page from the QR code above. You can search for properties by map or criteria. We also provide useful information, so please check our website.
